Making recycling easier

Turning used packing material into new resources has never been easier!

Kickstart the green transition

Recycling is much easier when you approach the task in the right way. First of all, you need an efficient pre-shredder with a bag-opener that does not shred more than is absolutely necessary, making it easier to sort the fractions afterwards. We have customers who, with the help of the M&J B240e bag-opener, can sort plastic waste into eight different types of plastic, which can then be given new life in a recycling factory. Recycling plays a key role in the ambitions for a green transition – and success starts with the right equipment.

Handles all fractions

The M&J B240e bag-opener is designed to ensure that all bags are opened – and that all recyclable materials retain their shape so that they can be easily sorted at a later stage. It can handle all waste, whether it comes in bags or bins, and can be used for all types of packaging, e.g. cans, plastic or drinks cartons. At the same time, you can enjoy M&J Recycling's well-known quality and power, guaranteeing a stable machine that is able to perform non-stop, thanks to an intelligent design that prevents downtime.

“We were totally familiar with M&J shredders from our sister company Lobbe, where a similar shredder had performed well. The machines have a particularly good reputation in the market, which is why the choice was quite simple.”
